

Dr. Várkuli Miklós

He was born in Debrecen in 1983. In 2013, he earned a (BSc) degree in Mechanical Engineering with a specialisation in Building Services Engineering from the Faculty of Engineering at the University of Debrecen. Since 2014, he has been working at PM-Energo Kft., a building services engineering firm, as a technical planner and estimator. In 2018, he earned a Master of Science (MSc) degree in General Mechanical Design from the University of Miskolc and began working as a research assistant on the FIEK project at the University of Miskolc's Institute of Mechanical and Product Design. In 2018, he became a PhD student at the István Sályi Doctoral School. Between 2018 and 2020, he participated in the following major university projects:

GINOP 2.3.4-15-2016-00004 PROJECT: FIEK Gear Drive Optimisation

GINOP-2.2.1-15-2016-00017 PROJECT: RÁBA Development of a Low-Noise Gear Drive

He has been working as a teaching assistant since 2020. In 2024, he earned a PhD. in (Engineering Sciences). He is currently a teaching assistant at the Institute of Machine and Product Design.

Language Proficiency:

Intermediate-Level State Language Exam:

Intermediate Level A in English, Certificate No.: 699434

Intermediate Level B in English, Certificate No.: 688879

MTMT Publications:

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;34032519>

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;34018973>

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;33250456>

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;33090930>

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;31149344>

<https://m2.mtmt.hu/gui2/?mode=browse¶ms=publication;31149335>